ROUND WEBBING SLINGS

Round webbing slings, otherwise known as polyester round slings or endless round slings, are yet another perfect heavy-duty lifting, pulling and towing solution from Webex Supply. They are made from hard wearing polyester that is resistance to oil, grease and they will not rot or lose strength in water.

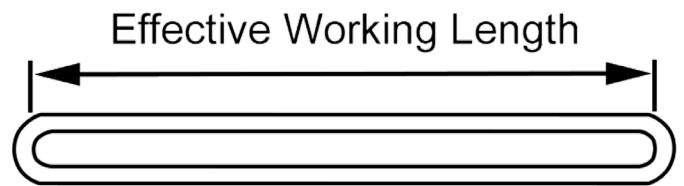

Our round slings range from lengths of 0.5 meter to 12 meters, in which each have a different weight capacity, ranging from 1 ton to 10 ton, so make sure that you order the correct product for the weight limit you require.

Each of our slings are colour coded according to their rating to ensure that the correct one is used for the applications at hand.

All Webex Supply's endless round slings have a protective polyester sleeve, in which these ensure the durability and safety when lifting heavy loads.

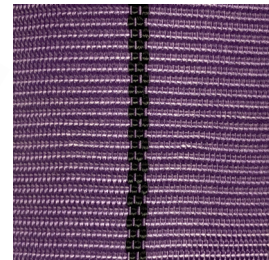

Each round sling is sold in accordance with it's effective working length (EWL) as shown in this image.

The EWL is the length of the sling when laid flat.

The 1 metre EWL has a circumference of 2 metres

Each sling will come with a serial number, date of manufacture and certification which you should be kept safe for your records.

WEBBING PROTECTION

It is important to use protective sheaths with your webbing straps and webbing slings to ensure that the polyester webbing is not damaged. Our webbing wear sleeves are effective in preventing abrasion and cutting from sharp services, as well as general wear and tear after long durations of using the product.

By using our protective sheaths, you can ensure that the duration of your webbing strap or webbing sling will be increased, hence increasing security and protection when transporting heavy loads. The wear sleeves are available in varying lengths and widths to suit all purposes, from 50mm to 100mm.
